Without Oratory But With Tears Of Humility And Thankfulness Glades Folks Welcome Kenneth Bass Home

Even the distinguished speaker, Commander Joe A. Boyd, Jr. of the American Legion, eloquent in the simplicity of his welcome, Mayor Bellie in the warmth of his presentation of the key to the city, Joan Cook in the sincerity of well chosen and brief welcome for his classmates, as well as the invocation by Mr. Malcolm, the special prayer by Mr. Holladay and the benediction by Father Petrie, emphasized the thankfulness and the grateful joy of a community at the return of Kenneth Bass from four months of imprisonment.

The group of Glades veterans, bearing, restrained in demonstration, displayed that prideful expression of admiration for a "buddy" who related the comrades threats, promises and punishment in their search for propaganda admissions and information.

They themselves, subjects of pride and honor by their community for privations and sufferings in the front lines and in hospitals left no doubt as to their appreciation of the Glades' ability to "dish it out and take it."

No participant in the program spectator or member of the audience but felt a full heart jumping at the restricted throat, and many bubbled over at the sight of the veterans of Korea and Korea—they're our boys and they're represented in this community historically and with honor; they're back.

The formation of a Junior Chamber of Commerce is about to become a reality in Belle Glade, as 31 young men between the ages of 21 and 35 voted unanimously to establish such an organization at their third organizational meeting held Tuesday evening at the City Hall.

to young men for training in leadership and participation in civic affairs. It has grown since 1920, until today there are locals in 44 countries, including Glades in every state in the U. S.

Each local group is completely independent, and no state or national group can in any way impose themselves on a local group.

They only advise and suggest. Frank Thiabaud was elected temporary chairman, and Paige Choate temporary secretary. With a full slate of permanent officers to be elected later.

Meetings will be held at the City Hall at 8 p.m. for the next two Thursday evenings, and any young man interested in joining this group is urged to attend these meetings or contact any of the following members of the membership committee: Bob Newman, Chester Comerford, Jack Cromatie, Ray Brannon.

"Good Americans" Is Mutual Opinion Of Glades and Hosts In Two-Way Educational Tour

"I feel much better about our government — these boys are down-to-earth and are honestly interested in our problems without regard to partisan politics; I've been worried about our government in Washington, but now I feel better — if the majority are like these, then we're alright," Harold Rubin, Belle Glades' Mayor and Chairman of the RDB's Agricultural Committee, after the banquet given the visiting Congressmen by the Sugar Company at Clewiston, voiced these sentiments. That, in considering the remarks of local citizens, seems to express the general sentiment. It's good to have such sentiment among the general public—confidence in our government.

One Congressman—King of Pennsylvania—told the Clewiston audience, "I haven't missed visiting this section of Florida for the past thirty years; you know I'm a farmer myself, and I purchase a considerable quantity of Florida citrus. The Sunday trip (flight over south-east Florida) certainly gave us a bird-eye-view of your flood-ridden conditions, and we learned about ramie today."

All the Congressmen were generous in their praise of the plane trip and the tour by bus with the thumb-nail sketches of the several operations visited. The lunch served by the South Bay Lions women at the Country Club was thoroughly enjoyed for the visitors hungry when they got there at 2 o'clock. The fried chicken and the vegetables, salad and dessert were honored with gustatory enthusiasm. Mrs. Bert Hopson and Mrs. Luther Jones decorated the tables with native flowers and shrubbery.

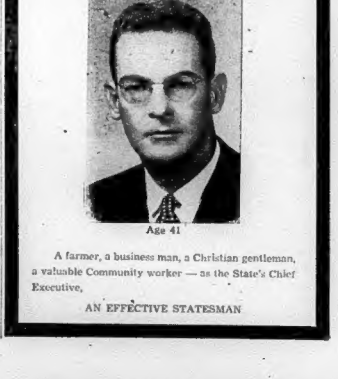

Congressman Fred K. Bramblett of California, who rejoined the group at Clewiston was a pleasant surprise to most of the group, for they couldn't find any horns growing from his head, and he's the Sub-Committee Chairman. Pleasant surprise awaited each of the dirt farmers who talked with him, for he evidenced a ready ear and an open mind with a farmer's understanding.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON TOPIC - "God's Design for a Better World"
SCRIPTURE - Isaiah 43:5-8; Mark 1:14-15; John 3:16-17; Revelation 21:1-5
By Rev. Robert Ford

INTRODUCTION:
As we begin a new quarter, we begin a series of lessons entitled, "Bible Teachings for a Better World." In this first lesson we see that God has a purpose for Man and the World. He is co-creator with man in the accomplishing of His designs.

I. GOD THE CREATOR
The creation reveals the glory of God. The Creator must be a Being of infinite wisdom and power. He created it for a purpose and with great design. The final work of creation was man, made in God's own image. The God who created man is deeply concerned with the fate of man in this universe. Sin is made possible through the gift to man of a limited amount of freedom. With freedom goes responsibility. The steadfast love of God follows man even in his sin. God is concerned that His purpose in the creation of man, namely that he might glorify God and enjoy Him forever, shall be accomplished.

II. THE KINGDOM OF GOD - Mark 1:14-15
Jesus hereby fulfills the Servant role as he comes into Galilee proclaiming the coming of God. This Kingdom is the rule of God. Through Jesus the power of God is revealed in human life. He sets before us the example of a sinless life. The full revelation that came with Jesus culminates in his death and resurrection. To those who repent and believe He becomes the Redeemer.

III. THE LITTLE GOSPEL - John 3:16-17
Here we have the Gospel summed up. Here we have the purpose, power, and love of God fully revealed. Here is God's means for salvation, restoration, and ultimate purpose for mankind.

V. THE NEW HEAVEN AND THE NEW EARTH
Revelation 21:1-5
We live in a very real world; God is at work in this world. He is calling men out of darkness into the glorious light of the Gospel. He has given us His Word which we must seek to build our society, to make this world a better place. But the final redemption is not within this world. For the individual there is the hope of a deshabitation, a new world, and a new earth that is not within this world. For the human race there is knowledge of the finished man and the new heaven and new earth.

THIS WEEK'S SERMONETTE

WITHOUT MONEY

Submitted by F. D. Buschmiller, pastor
Seventh Day Adventist Church

Yes, strange as it may seem in this day when MONEY is virtually the god of multitudes, the most valuable thing in life can be had "WITHOUT MONEY."

It may not be possible to secure food, raiment, shelter, education and transportation without money; but that which is more important and more interesting than all these is absolutely free.

Undoubtedly it will be agreed that the salvation of God is the most valuable thing in life. And, though at an infinite cost to God, that salvation has been provided as a free gift to man.

This is evident from the words of the Apostle Peter to Simon: "Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money" (Acts 8:20). God regards not the rich more than the poor (Job 34:19).

And only in this salvation to be had "without money" it is also.

WITHOUT PRICE!
There may be those who will readily admit that it is impossible to purchase salvation with money, but who at the same time insist that there is some sort of price to pay for it. To all such, the following Scripture should make it plain that salvation is without price: "Being justified FREELY by His grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus" (Rom. 3:24).

"Freely" here means "gratuitously," without a cause, "for naught." And "grace" means "everything for nothing to one who deserves nothing but judgment." The Lord Jesus Christ paid the price of salvation. He "gave Himself for our sins" (Gal. 1:4). The Son of God "loved me and He paid the price—His precious blood—there remains no price for us to pay. We are justified "freely" and "by His grace." Furthermore, this salvation is also to be had

WITHOUT WORK!
Most persons have difficulty in believing that salvation is without works. They seem to be satisfied that they cannot purchase salvation in any way, but they entertain the thought that they can work for it. Let all such consider the following passages:

"Not of works, lest any man should boast"

"Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on Him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness" (Rom. 4:4-5).

"Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to His own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began" (2 Tim. 1:9).

"Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but by His mercy" (Tit. 3:5).

"Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law" (Rom. 3:28).

Upon believing the Word of Truth, the Gospel of your salvation, you will receive the Holy Spirit. Possessing Him, you will be able to be "deans of good works" (Titus 2:14), and maintain the "good works" which "God hath before ordained that we should walk in them" (Eph. 2:10). But do not imagine that this is working for salvation. Salvation is "without works"; but every person already saved, should be deans of good works—not to be saved, but because he is saved. In addition to all this, salvation must be maintained.

It is difficult for many to believe that salvation is to be had without waiting. They are laboring under the impression that it is necessary for them to wait until they are better or to wait for certain feelings or to wait for sounds and sights. They imagine that they must wait for a "more convenient season."

All such should be eager to know that the Scripture says: "Behold, now is the accepted time; behold now is the day of salvation" (2 Cor. 6:2). It is not necessary to wait another moment to be saved. This moment is yours; "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." Today if you will hear His voice harden not your hearts. Will you have God's salvation without money, without price, without works and without waiting?
